Margdarshan – HR Domain

The Alumni Relations Committee, in collaboration with IPSA – The HR Club, successfully organized Margdarshan-Episode 4 in HR Domain on February 12, 2025, at Audi 1. The event was graced by esteemed faculty members Sonali Mulay, Abdul Qadir, Jeeta Sarkar, Sovanjeet Mishra, and Poornima Ma'am, along with enthusiastic student participants.

The session commenced with the auspicious lamp-lighting ceremony, symbolizing the pursuit of knowledge and wisdom. The alumni guest speaker, Mr. Kamaldeep Singh, (Batch 2012-14) HR Manager at HIC Global Solutions, shared valuable insights into career growth and professional development in the field of HR.

He emphasized the importance of building strong professional connections, highlighting how networking can open new opportunities and accelerate career progression. He encouraged students to take initiative, embrace learning from mistakes, and not fear trying new things. Stressing the value of self-awareness, he explained how understanding one's own skill sets can help individuals identify the right career paths. Additionally, he underscored the significance of asking the right questions, as curiosity and active engagement are key to growth in any profession.

A quiz competition was conducted to engage students, testing their knowledge of HR concepts. The winners were awarded prizes, adding an interactive and competitive element to the event.

The session concluded with an engaging Q&A segment, where students sought insights on industry trends and corporate realities. The event provided students with practical knowledge, inspiring them to take proactive steps in their careers.

HAC – Mental Awareness session

On February 19th, the Hostel Affairs Committee successfully organized a Mental Awareness Session, aimed at fostering a deeper understanding of mental well-being, stress management, and mindfulness techniques. The session provided a much-needed platform for students to gain insights into handling academic pressure, emotional well-being, and mental resilience.

The esteemed guest speaker for the session was Ms. Geetika Seth, a renowned expert in the field of mental health and wellness. She shared valuable knowledge on recognizing early signs of stress, adopting mindfulness practices, and implementing effective coping mechanisms. Her engaging approach and interactive discussions helped students feel more connected to the subject, making the session highly impactful.

The event was meticulously planned and executed under the leadership of Aloke Jana, a key member of the Hostel Affairs Committee, ensuring a smooth and enriching experience for all attendees. Vice President Smriti Jain played a crucial role in supporting and overseeing the event, contributing to its overall success.

The initiative was widely appreciated by students, as it addressed crucial mental health challenges faced in hostel life. It emphasized the importance of self-care, open discussions, and seeking help when needed, ultimately promoting a healthier and more supportive living environment.

Alumni Corner

Gratitude towards your work One thing which I have learned on the job or at my business is being thankful. One must have a positive mindset while working, otherwise whatever work we will do will not be up to the mark. Having bigger expectations is one thing but gratitude toward your work is the main thing. So, in whichever company you are, whatever post you hold, whatever job profile you have, you should have higher goals and be happy and thankful

STUDENT SUCCESS STORIES

Stepping into my PGDM journey, I expected case studies, late-night submissions, and endless discussions. What I didn't expect was how much I would grow, both as a professional and as a person.

From dissecting distribution channels of FMCG giants to analyzing innovation strategies in AI, every project challenged me to think beyond theories and apply concepts to real-world business problems, but the real game-changer was stepping up as the President of the Events Committee. Coordinating multiple teams, managing last-minute hiccups, and ensuring everything ran smoothly taught me the value of adaptability and strategic thinking.

One of the most underrated aspects of a PGDM is the people you meet along the way. From professors and mentors to peers and industry professionals, every interaction added a new perspective. It was about building meaningful relationships that could open doors in the future, the right conversations often lead to the best opportunities

Interning at Velocity India gave me firsthand exposure to the experiential marketing industry. From brand activations to vendor management, I learned how strategic execution translates into real business impact. It was a crash course in agility, innovation, and handling real-world challenges.

The biggest milestone? Landing a role at SequelString AI Pvt. Ltd., a company that specializes in Robotic Process Automation (RPA) and Blockchain, helping businesses streamline operations and drive efficiency. It's an exciting opportunity to apply my skills in a rapidly evolving industry, and I look forward to this next chapter.

If there's one thing this journey has taught me, it's that growth happens outside the comfort zone. From tackling business challenges to meeting the right people, every experience has shaped who I am today. And while this chapter is coming to an end, the adventure is just getting started. Here's to new challenges, bigger dreams, and making every moment count!

From the Campus Corner .....

Someone walked through the quiet Jaipuria courtyard, their mind racing with dreams. Two years ago, they arrived as a stranger; today, this place felt like home. Soon, they would step out, carrying memories and ambitions forward.
